

Canan Akoğlu

Canan Akoglu works as Associate Professor at Design School Kolding in Denmark. She has a background in architecture. Akoglu holds a PhD degree in industrial design from Istanbul Technical University. Her main research interests include agency & citizenship and togetherness; social design in health and care facilities, building resilient communities, social frictions & conflicts in society, service design, stakeholder engagement, participatory design, co-design and democratic participation. Prior to her current position, Akoglu worked as a co-founder of the Department of Industrial Design, Faculty of Architecture and Design at Ozyegin University in Istanbul.